

CARS24 Acquires Vehicle Info to Build India's First Full-Stack Vehicle Ownership Platform

Cars24 today announced the acquisition of Vehicle Info, one of India's most widely used automotive utility applications, as the company moves closer to building the country's first full-stack vehicle ownership platform.

While the automobile ecosystem has traditionally focused on buying and selling vehicles, the everyday reality of ownership lies in the years in between. From checking insurance validity and tracking challans to monitoring FASTag balance and staying compliant with vehicle documentation, millions of vehicle owners manage multiple fragmented services across platforms.

Vehicle Info was built to solve exactly this problem.

Founded by Chirag Pipaliya, the platform emerged from a simple but powerful question: What is the single biggest problem of a car owner? Not the purchase. Not the sale. But managing everything that happens during ownership.

Chirag, who grew up in a small village near Bhavnagar in Gujarat and studied in a government school, built the product from Surat without access to venture capital or a large startup ecosystem. Operating under tight constraints, the focus was clear: the product had to deliver immediate, everyday utility for millions of users, or it would not survive.

That philosophy shaped Vehicle Info into one of the top auto applications in India, solving practical ownership needs at scale. The platform's relevance is reflected in how users download it not for a one-time task, but to keep it as a permanent companion for their vehicle lifecycle.

With this acquisition, Cars24 will integrate Vehicle Info's capabilities into its broader vision of building a complete vehicle ownership ecosystem, extending beyond transactions to cover the full lifecycle of owning and managing a vehicle.

Vehicle Info will continue to operate as a standalone app with its existing team while working closely with Cars24 to expand the shared vision of simplifying vehicle ownership for millions of users.

The integration reflects a broader ambition: building solutions designed in India, solving real problems at scale, and creating products relevant not just for India but for the world.

Together, Cars24 and Vehicle Info will work toward transforming how vehicle owners manage their cars every day.

One step closer to Better Drives, Better Lives.
